POLE/PADDLE/PAW RACE AT SUNDAY RIVER, MAR. 31

The Annual Pole, Paddle, and Paw Race will be held as scheduled on Saturday, March 31, at 1 p. m. Race Director Steve Wright says interested competitors have called from all over New England for information and he expects a record field for the race. The conditions will be close to ideal, with plenty of snow cover for the skiing and snow shoe portions of the race.

The public is cordially invited to come and witness this season transition event. Good viewing spots are at the Sunday River Inn, the Sunday River Covered Bridge, and crossing Ed Day's field.

FROM THE bethel town office

Notes of Interest

Effective Sunday night, April 1, overnight on-street parking will be permitted. The winter ban on overnight on-street parking will have been in effect from Nov. 1, 1983, through March 31, 1984.

Motorists approaching the Common from Mill Hill will notice a new yellow and black sign on the right shoulder warning of crossing traffic from left to right (from the Fire Station toward the Bethel Inn). Several residents complained of near misses and Maine Department of Transportation safety engineers responded with a safety review and sign installation pursuant to Title 29 of the State Statutes. Motorists are urged to exercise extreme caution in approaching this intersection.

The Board of Assessors will be in session on Monday, April 2, from 12 noon to 5 p. m. in the Town Office to accept property lists for 1984. Residents should note changes in property listings will be applied to the next tax billing period after July 1, 1984 and not to the transition period tax bills. (The reason for this is that the Maine Bureau of Taxation considers our transition period as the last portion of an 18-month 1983 tax period since the April 1, 1983 valuation is to be used to calculate transition period tax bills.) Also, applications for veterans exemptions and Tree Growth must be filed or post-marked by April 2. Anyone having questions regarding these items should contact Town Clerk Merton Brown.

Pursuant to state law, transition period tax bills must be sent to

Contel's New Equipment Plans for Bethel, West Bethel, Locke Mills and North Norway to Cost $2.1 Million

The Continental Telephone Company of Maine has announced plans to spend more than $2.1 million this year to install new electronic dial equipment in Bethel, West Bethel, Locke Mills and North Norway, and to replace the cable facilities which link these four exchanges to the long distance network. In the planning stages for several years, the project will provide local customers with the most modern type of "digital" call switching, and will allow the company to offer new services not possible under the present system, according to William B. Benner, Superintendent of Telephone Services for Western Maine.

There are two major elements of the service improvement program which Continental is undertaking, Benner said. The greatest expense will involve the installation of a computer-controlled base unit costing $329,692 in the company's building on Elm Street in Bethel. Connected to this central processor will be remote units in the three other exchanges.

At West Bethel, $175,422 will be spent for equipment to be housed in the existing building on Route 2 in West Bethel village. In Locke Mills, the company's former dial office on the Twitchell Pond Road, now vacant, will be utilized to accommodate $164,319 worth of equipment to serve that area, and the temporary mobile unit on Route 26 at the Bird Hill Road will be removed. A total of $191,690 will be invested for new local and toll facilities to be installed in the North Norway office on the Nobles Corner Road.

There will also be smaller remote switches installed in the

THIRD QUARTER OPEN HOUSE AT TELSTAR MIDDLE/HIGH SCHOOL THURSDAY, APRIL 5

The Telstar Middle and High Schools are planning the third quarter open house for the first Thursday evening in April, the 6th.

All faculty members from the high school will be in their classrooms. Rank cards will be available to parents from homeroom teachers, brief parental conferences can be arranged, and there will be several displays from the math (computer), science, history and English departments.

The middle school faculty will be in the gymnasium for teacher conferences. Rank cards will be handed out at entrance to the gym. Classroom curriculum materials used in various subjects from grades six through eight will be in the cafeteria.

The combined Open House will begin at seven o'clock Thursday evening, April 5, and will end at nine.

the party who held title on April 1, 1983. For those who sold property after that date, the question might arise as to who should pay the bill since a new owner holds title. Technically, the April 1, 1983, owner is responsible for the bill, but morally the new owner is obligated to pay just as he or she did at the property closing when taxes were paid from the date of new ownership. To assist in this matter, copies of the tax bill will be sent to new property owners who took possession after April 1, 1983. This situation created by the law continued on Page Four

FUND ESTABLISHED FOR ERECTION OF NEW FOUNTAIN

The Bethel Common Fountain Committee has announced the establishment of a fund for erection of a new fountain on the common. The cost has been set at $2,500, all to be raised through private donations, with no tax money involved. It is hoped this goal will be reached prior to the Town Meeting in June, at which time acceptance of the gift will be requested. The concept of a fountain on the common earned approval of Bethel voters at the March 20 annual meeting.

The new fountain will be placed in the center of the common, in the general vicinity of the previous fountain, which was removed in 1980 through action of the Board of Selectmen. Following the request of interested townspeople for consideration of a new fountain, a study committee was appointed in 1983 to consider a replacement and to determine cost and method of funding. Members of the Fountain Committee include: Norma Jodrey, Chairman; Mary Keniston, Secretary-Treasurer; Dale Thurston and John E. Grover.

Contributions are now being received and may be sent to Bethel Common Fountain Fund, c/o Mary Keniston, Treasurer, P. O. Box 212, Bethel, Maine 04217.

Safety Tip of the Week

Sap season is in full swing now. Maybe the spring is actually coming. Please be careful both of steam burns when pouring the hot sap or syrup or of outdoor sap burners getting away. If your hand is steam burned, run it under cool water for at least five minutes. That will prevent the burn from getting worse. On outside burners, keep all grass and brush away from the sap burner. If possible have a layer of rocks surrounding your burner. And keep an eye on the flames. A brush fire could easily take off and cause a great deal of damage.

Sent in by Viva Whitman:

What a beautiful morning this is today! The sun shines in the bow window, making my African violets really shine with all their many colors. It's probably the only garden I will have, so I enjoy watching the violets bloom.

Last Monday wasn't a very good day to start the week off. It was rather slippery and another no school day for the children. It seems as though there will be quite a few days to make up later when the children would much rather be out doors enjoying the Spring time.

We didn't do much on Monday, but Tuesday saw us headed for Norway to do the wash as usual. Of course there are always errands to be done when in town and had just gotten home when the phone rang. It was Peggy calling from Florida to see how everybody was. It is always nice to hear from her either by letter or phone. The weather wasn't like ours and she was in Fort Lauderdale at her daughter Kaye's home when she called. She doesn't start home until April 9, when she has another lady to ride with her and I'm sure they will stop along the way to see some of the sights. Hope they have a good time until they start home and a great trip on the way home. Just wish I was there to see all the sights again. I miss not being able to go to Florida now, as I really loved being able to watch the many boats go and come in the inlet outside my window, the lovely flowers in bloom and especially the opportunity to sit outside and enjoy the warmth without a lot of bugs bothering you. The companionship of all the workers at the club was great, also. It was so nice to sit and talk and just enjoy the beauty around us in the spring time.

Lawrence and Grace came down to visit for a while on Tuesday morning after we got home.

Russell had been wanting to look over the dehumidifier on the roof and decided Tuesday was a good time to do it. Also to see how much air the vents under the eaves let in, so did a little examining.

Good old Fibrositis has kept me awake a lot lately so I haven't been very ambitious. Pain can sure tire one more than a hard day's work. Was glad that Wednesday was the day to go to the doctor so I could get a shot for my troubles. Was lucky and got in early and so did Russell.

Had an appointment in South Paris on Thursday morning, so while I was at that, Russell did more errands. We want to paint some of the paneling in the Mobile Home. Getting the carpet out has helped, but I know it won't be enough when next winter comes and the furnace has to work more. Also, we won't be able to open windows a crack as we have been doing to let the formaldehyde smell out of the home, so are trying

THANK YOU

I wish to thank Malinda Seames, Tri Town Ambulance Service Unit, Dr. Lacombe and nurses at Stephens Memorial Hospital for the wonderful care I received. Also for the cards, gifts and Barbara Dunham for cleaning my house while I was away. God bless you all.

ing to do all we can to overcome it now.

Our yard is getting rather muddy again and the walk way wet so one gets their feet wet unless they have on boots, so Russell made a board walk for us to travel on when we go outside. It is a big help.

Felt some better on Friday, so did a little baking and sewing. Also knew that I was to have Courtney there for a little while during the day, so got ready for her arrival. She is walking all around now and it is so much fun to see her travel. Her Mother (Wynona) says she reminds her of her Great Grandmother when she walks as she picks her feet up pretty good. What a pleasure it is to watch the little ones like that and see how fast they advance.

Saturday was Grange Night, so had to do a little cooking and get a program together. Had been working on it a little during the week, but really got it together Saturday, ready for the meeting. We had twelve people there in all; five of them being guests. Our members don't turn out in great numbers at all and we would like to see more of them at the meetings. It makes it much more interesting when there are more people to participate. However, we were glad to have Verna Swan and Richard Felt from Bryant Pond there as well as Harold and Dot Canwell and Evelyn Jackson of Oxford. We can always depend on Richard and Dot to provide us with some of their good music which adds a lot to the program. They can't come too often to suit us and hope they know it.

Our next meeting will be April 14, and hope all who can will attend. We will have scrambled officer's night and each member bring a number for the program. There will be a 6:30 potluck supper preceding the meeting as usual and that always starts the evening off with the right touch.

Russell and I are still enjoying the chick-a-dees and blue-jays as well as a pretty gray squirrel who seems to like to come to see what there is for him to eat. Have seen a red squirrel once or twice but that is all. The Jays like the corn that Russell throws out for them. It is whole corn and it is fun to watch them try to swallow some of the kernels. Some of the kernels are a little large and they take them up into the trees to eat them.

How I wish my legs would work good enough so I could go for a walk this lovely morning. It looks more like Spring is on the way than it has before, and I'd love to be able to get out in the fresh air. As it is, I'll have to enjoy it the best way I can and hope things get better as time goes on. It looks rather pretty across the road with the sun shining through the trees, and that's what counts.

Prim's has prescriptions, Brooks Bros. has hardware. At either place, you'll find cards with a flair.

The sun was a fireball teetering upon the edge of the horizon above Noyes Mountain, when I left home this morning at 7:45 to walk the crust. My intention was to go to the hemlock grove and on to the ledges but I found the crust there was tricky, so I kept to the Spring Road. When almost to the blackberry patch, I climbed and climbed. The skyline of towering trees shouldered into the sky.

At the top of the hill I crossed the Bulldozer Road, a fence, and a wall to enter one of the farm fields.

I first noticed the rocks breaking through like gray bones pushing out of some mummified hide.

It had been very quiet until now, when a little breeze came up. I stopped to gaze, especially at the mountains. I noted the Baldpates, one of which I had climbed some years ago.

Going through another fence and turning right, I headed for the Garland Place. Here it was a total experience of solitude in a world that could have been in the time of the Garlands themselves. The old cellar hole was there as well as the cemetery. John Garland was the father of this Greenwood family. Richard lived in Greenwood until 1850, when he moved to Wisconsin. His son, also Richard, was born in Norway. His second son, Hannibal Hamlin Garland, was an author. I have read his book, "Son of the Middle Border", an autobiography. He tells the story of the life of his mother and father, his two sisters, a brother and himself and their struggles on the prairies and into the Dakotas, an interesting book of life from boyhood to manhood. So this place holds meaning for me each time that I go.

I came back to face the mountains most of the way, always so lovely.

On every side I could trace the hand of winter. Tracks in the snow, some large and some small, bubbling brooks and pools, and drifts to show winter was still over the land. Nature's canvas portraying vivid pictures but so changeable no artist can duplicate them.

I took the road toward Hayes Hill, just to see the brook, before returning to the crest of the hill.

A big white bird crossed over the field far up in the blue, possibly a gull.

I loitered a short time by the

The West Paris Firemen's Auxiliary will hold its monthly meeting on April 2, 7 p. m., at the fire station.

North Paris

— Eveline B. Vatcher, Corres. —

We have been enjoying several beautiful spring days and the mud dried up a bit. Joe Vatcher and his nephew went rabbit hunting Saturday for the first time since Feb. 22, and got a rabbit.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Newton of Mechanic Falls and their son and his family had supper and spent the evening Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Abbott.

The Community Club will hold their first meeting of the season at the home of the president, Joe Vatcher, and Eveline, on April 4, at 6:45 p. m.

Mrs. Rhoda Vatcher, her daughter, Mrs. Rhoda Labbe and sons, Cornelius and Daniel McAniff, went to Massachusetts on business March 26. On Wednesday, Daniel went with his class from the West Paris school to Norland's at Livermore. The children gathered and helped with the dinner of beef soup and the girls made home made gingerbread with whipped cream. They all had a grand time and enjoyed the day.

Earl Cordwell was taken by Tri-Town Ambulance Service to Norway hospital Wednesday, and he was returned to his home later in the day following treatment.

"It looks like Business" in North Paris as the huge culverts, bulldozers, cement forms and equipment were moved in this past week. The power company and telephone company still have work to do, if it doesn't rain every day. The store is being dismantled inside.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Vatcher went to Mexico to check on her sisters, Doris Lawrence and Alice Goff. Her brother, Arnold Coffin, lives across the road and he came to join the party. Road work is being done on that road similar to North Paris.

Ellsworth Lawrence, Rhoda Labbe and two sons, had dinner with Joe and Eveline Vatcher on Sunday.

Betty McAllister, a former resident, was taken to Stephens Memorial Hospital, Friday.

Eveline had a card from Joe Penley who is spending the winter in Florida. He had seen our friends Reg Ford, Fred Judkins, and Aiden Redding the day before and they were all glad that they missed our last big storm, and they are happy in the sun.

This is a beautiful Monday morning, just right to start house cleaning. Are we all ready? Have a good week.

At the Legislature

State
Representative
Jeffrey N. Mills
District 63

There are only 15 days left until statutory adjournment and because of the time limit imposed, legislators are working overtime in order to get the business before us completed.

Although many of the bills being considered this session have already had public hearings, there are still some bills that have yet to be heard. If there is a bill you are interested in that has not yet been heard, I suggest you contact me at 1-800-452-4601 and I will be happy to find out the date for you.

Some of the highlights of the action that took place last week in Augusta included Governor Brennan's veto of the Inland Fisheries and Wildlife bill, and committee hearings including the Education Committee's hearing on the Boards of Overseers bill, the Business Legislation Committee's hearing on a Mandatory Insurance bill and the State Government Committee's hearing on Public Advocate Intervention.

Inland Fisheries & Wildlife Dept.

As I have reported in previous columns, the Legislature has been working on a solution to the problems faced by the financially troubled Department of Inland Fisheries and Wildlife.

Last week, this issue peaked once again when the Legislature was forced to vote on whether or not to save ten jobs in the Department. Although the Legislature voted to freeze the layoffs because of a belief the job cuts would hurt the operation and programs of the Department, Governor Brennan disagreed and vetoed the bill.

The Governor expressed that he appreciates the good intentions of the legislators who voted for this bill and understands the concerns of the sportsmen who do not want to see reductions in staff. However, because the Governor feels the legislature made no provisions for paying the cost of restoring these positions, he returned the bill unsigned. In addition, the Governor justified his veto by stressing the layoffs are part of an effort to balance the Department's budget, and without these layoffs, he feels there would be a deficit of $268,000.

This issue has become an extremely difficult one, due primarily to the fact that there is disagreement over whether or not the Governor's projected deficit is accurate. In addition, many legislators believe these layoffs will hurt more than help the Department. Therefore, even though there is a great deal of respect for the Governor's decision and many do not want to override his veto, it is possible an override may occur.

For the time being, the bill has

BERRYMENT - MARIN

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Berryment

In a double ring ceremony, performed by the Rev. Michael Caldwell of Locke Mills on Jan. 1, at the Universalist Church, Bryant Pond, Miss Carolyn Marin was united in marriage with Roger Berryment. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Marin Jr. of Bryant Pond and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Berryment, also of Bryant Pond.

The bride wore a white satin Gunne Sax style gown, trimmed with lace and a fingertip length matching veil. She carried a colonial bouquet of yellow roses and white stephanotis. Her maid of honor, Tammy Wilson, was dressed in a Gunne Sax style dark purple gown, while the bridesmaids, Jeanne Marin, Bobbi Marin and Bethany Wilson, wore light purple print Gunne Sax style gowns. They all carried single yellow roses. Kamala Marin, as flower girl, wore a dark purple print dress and carried a bouquet of mixed white silk flowers. The dresses were all fashioned by the bride. Mr. Berryment and his attendants, best man, Ronald Duguay, and ushers, Troy Berryment, Tony Berryment and Mitchell Berryment, all wore grey tuxedos and white carnation boutonnieres. Ryan Wing was ring bearer. Furnishing organ music was Mrs. Susan Glines and soloist, Mrs. Linda Stowell sang "Evergreen".

The reception following the ceremony was held at the Greenwood Town Hall, Locke Mills.

Mrs. Berryment is a 1982 graduate of Telstar Regional High School. Mr. Berryment, a graduate of Telstar Regional High School in 1980, is serving with the United States Navy, stationed on the USS Eisenhower, out of Norfolk, Va. They are residing in Virginia Beach, Va.

been tabled so that legislators may weigh the pros and cons of this issue and possibly devise an alternative plan to protect the programs and positions. I will keep you posted on the outcome of the veto and also the financial status of the Department in future columns.

"CAREER EXPLORATION WEEK" PLANNED AT T.R.H.S.

The Career Education Team in conjunction with the Guidance Department at Telstar Regional High School is planning its annual "Career Exploration Week" program for its junior and senior students. This program provides an opportunity for over 170 students to learn about careers. Therefore, each student will be advised to design a career study project requiring the individual to "job shadow" an occupation/career. Students will be excused from school for four days to job shadow during the week of April 9.

The projects under last year ranged from radio broadcasting at WOXX, law enforcement with the Oxford County Sheriff's Department to exploring aviation/airline services at the Portland International Jetport. Thus, career project sites are of variety in nature and location. All projects will be thoroughly structured and supervised by Telstar Regional High School faculty in addition to on-site supervisors.

THANK YOU

To the Northern Oxford County Health & Service Council:

Now that I've recovered from the shock, I would like to express my sincere thanks for selecting me as co-recipient of the 1984 Medical Award. I feel deeply honored indeed, to receive such a prestigious award. It's a nice feeling to know that people appreciate the efforts that many people take for granted. To say I was surprised would be the understatement of the year. Again, my sincere thanks.

In their organizational meeting on Wednesday, March 21, 1984, in the Town Office Meeting Room, the Board of Selectmen elected Arlan R. Jodrey as chairman for the coming year and Peter T. Haines as vice-chairman. This will be Mr. Jodrey's second consecutive term as chairman.

The Selectmen make the following appointments for 1984: William H. Judson, General Assistance Administrator, Airport Manager, Tax Collector, Treasurer, Road Commissioner, Androscoggin Valley Council of Governments Representative, and Building Inspector; Merton T. Brown, Jr., Registrar of Voters; Blake MacKay, Electrical Inspector; Sumner Burgess, Tree Warden; Samuel Timberlake, Plumbing Inspector; Health Officer, and Code Enforcement Officer, and Richard Hosterman as C. The classes are now all represented with the exception of the seniors. Here's hoping that more talent will be forthcoming in the next week. ril Board meeting, interviews will be held as needed for positions on the Planning Board, Community Safety and Law Enforcement Committee, Recreation Board, Budget Committee, Airport Development Committee, Board of Appeals, Fountain Advisory Committee, Municipal Facilities Committee, and Radio Communications Committee.

Selectmen's Meeting — Future

The next meeting of the Selectmen will be Monday, April 2, at 7 p.m. Because of a sizeable agenda, consideration is being given to holding the meeting in the "Board Room" formerly used by Crane Realty. Access to the room is from the south side of the Cole Block facing the Savings Bank.

Agenda items include consideration of: the police cruiser replacement plan and timetable; compact/highway loader package purchase plan and timetable; establishing alternatives to resolve dangers to motorists at Mill Hill/Church/Broad/Main Street intersections; plans to study and make recommendations to voters regarding holding municipal elections in March or June; and a plan to reforest areas of the Town Forest at no cost to the Town. Interested citizens are invited to attend.

Sunday River, Newry Corner, and North Newry areas, permitting the company to increase the number of single-party lines without major cable additions. Once these are in service, permission will be sought from the Maine Public Utilities Commission to adjust local mileage charges so one-party service will be less costly than before in those areas. A rate change effective Feb. 16, 1984, has already reduced these charges by almost half throughout Continental's Maine serving area, Benner said.

Second on the list of major expenditures associated with this project is the sum of $766,418 to install 22.5 miles of buried fiber optics cable to connect this area with the toll network. Instead of speaking over conventional copper cable, caller's voices will be beamed by light over hair-thin glass fibers from Bethel to North Norway, where the link to long distance circuits will take place.

At the time of conversion to the new system, presently set for late October 1984, there will be a number of immediate service improvements for many customers, said the spokesman. No longer will one-party customers be asked for their number by an operator on toll calls, since the new equipment can automatically identify the calling number except on party lines. Those using Touch-Call phones will find faster connections when today's conversion to dial-pulse operation is eliminated. Customers using pay phones for local calls will deposit coins before dialing, as in most major cities, with the money returned in the case of a busy signal or no answer. And the dial tone, ringing signal and busy signal on the new equipment will change in order to conform to the standard being introduced throughout the country.

There will be no change in the local calling areas as they exist today, and all customers will retain their present telephone numbers. It will, however, become necessary to dial all seven digits to complete a local call, and many customers will require a visit by a company installer between now and conversion time in order for the bells in their telephones to be modified to work on the new system. As time permits, the company will contact those customers whose bells are to be changed, and will schedule premise visits as mutually convenient. There will not be a charge for this work, even for those customers who own their own telephone sets.

Following the changeover, Continental will be accepting requests from one-party customers for four optional Custom Calling Services available for a supplemental charge: Call Waiting signals a talking customer that he has another call; Call Forwarding allows incoming calls to be redirected

REP. MILLS TO HOLD CONSTITUENT HOURS

Residents of Sumner and Hartford are especially urged to attend; however, any interested citizens are welcome. Letters to the Editor

March 21, 1984

To the Editor:

I am writing to invite people from our area to attend the upcoming Oxford County Conference. The Community Responds to the Family, which will be held on Saturday, April 7 at Telstar Regional High School from 8:30-4. The conference offers the opportunity to hear speakers of exceptional quality, Chief Justice Vincent McKusick and Dr. Elizabeth Marks, and attend small group sessions featuring presenters of such calibre as U. S. Attorney Richard Cohen, District Attorney Janet Mills, Assistant Attorney General Anita St. Onge, and many other professionals in the fields of law enforcement, health and social services. Issues to be addressed during the conference are drug and alcohol issues, including both treatment and enforcement, family stress and violence, and methods of building family strengths to combat such problems.

The planning committee for the conference has intentionally kept the registration fee at a minimal $3, to allow citizens to attend, and hopes that many will take the opportunity to participate. Pre-registration forms are available at the Adult and Community Education office at Telstar, 824-2780.

Sincerely,

Cathy Newell, Director,

To the Editor:

I have found a new way to gauge a candidate's standing in the political race that could put the public opinion polls out of business.

Why spend money and take the trouble of sampling the voters' opinion when you can use this new method free.

All you have to do is find out which Candidate can raise more campaign money on the principle that that one will be most likely to win.

Here we are only six months away before the Presidential election and the "Wise men" tell us every so often that so and so is leading because he raised $2 million or more than his opponents $14 million.

If one Candidate is $1 million ahead in money, he must be that far ahead in votes.

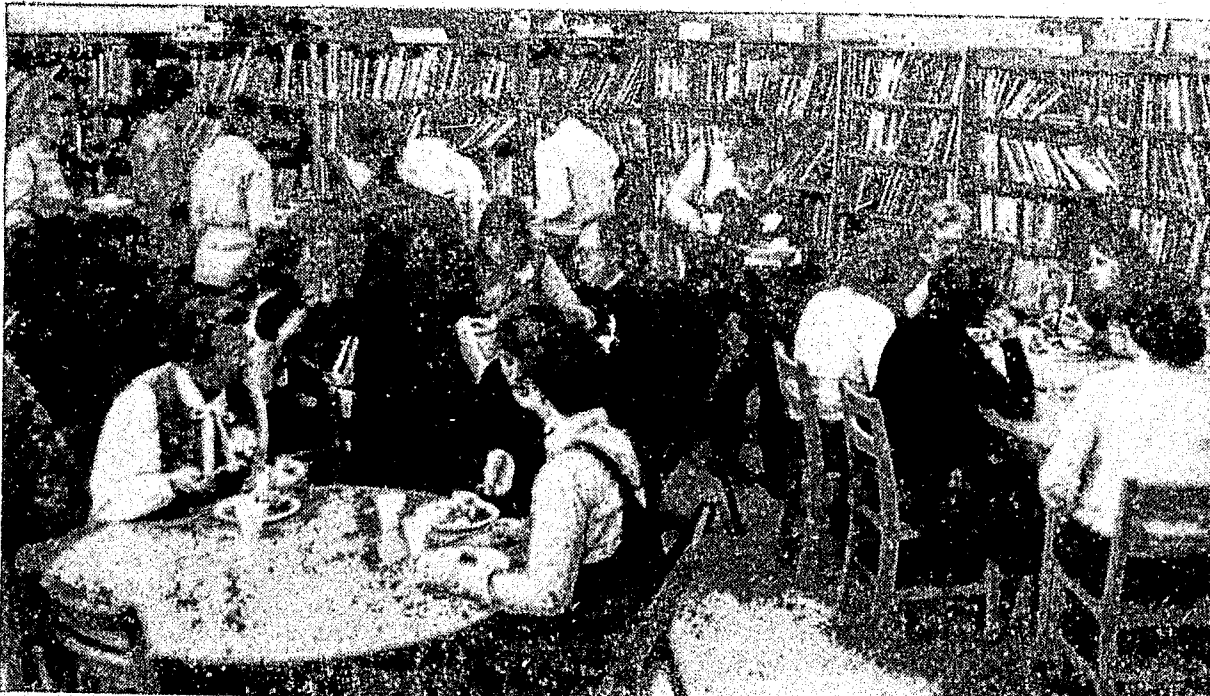

That way you can find out just how much your vote is worth in this money system.

It is now the opinion that to run a race for the Presidential nomination, a Candidate "if taken seriously" has to raise about $10 million or more. If he wins, he will need $15 to $20 million or more to run for the Presidency itself!!

Most of the money will be spent on television appearances so the stations will take in millions and millions of dollars.

So my belief is that the parents should tell their kids that it is possible for them to become President when they grow up, but if they are smart they should first buy a television station.

VOLUNTEER LUNCHEON—The Crescent Park School and Bethel Bisbee School teachers enjoyed a pot luck luncheon with the Bethel School Volunteers on March 21 at Crescent Park School. The luncheon was designed to give the teachers and volunteers a chance to share thoughts and ideas about the volunteer program.

Teachers and volunteers spoke of the positive effects the volunteer program has had with the students. Volunteer efforts have been in such areas as: the cross country ski program, room mothers and fathers, classroom volunteers for enrichment and special needs, arts and crafts, and community resources.

The Volunteer Committee is very pleased with the progress of the Volunteer Program and encourages anyone who would like to volunteer his or her time or share their skills to join in. You can become involved by just calling the school and leaving your name.

A definition of learning is "growth and change". The volunteers in this program have certainly helped to fulfill that definition.

Nobody's Child

"If only I could speak to the woman who gave me life I could tell her how happy I am. I could tell her about the wonderful people who adopted me and I could see her, discover the secret of my origin, know the country from which my ancestors came, the story that is my history." — B.J., Adopted Adult.

"I would be most happy if I could ever see my daughter. As far as demanding her back, I felt that right the morning I signed those papers. I hope she is happy with her adoptive family and I am grateful to them for raising her. I would like her to know, when she is 21, that if she wishes to see me, she would be welcomed." — K.J., who gave up a child for adoption.

"I helped my daughter search for her birth mother since I would want to know myself if I was adopted. I had no fear of losing her." — S.B., who adopted a child.

The "adoption triangle" is an unusual and highly emotional linkage which binds adoptive parents, "birth parents", and the adoptees themselves. This delicate tapestry weaves the needs of those who wish to adopt a child as well as women who, for whatever reason, cannot keep the children to whom they give birth. But many questions and emotional scars can remain with all parties for years afterward.

Perhaps the most important point to understand about adoption is that it is a lifelong experience for all three of the parties involved. Many complex questions are raised years after an actual adoption takes place.

What rights do adoptees have to get access to information concerning their birth parents?

What are the rights of the birth parents to privacy?

What are the rights of the adoptive parents to the confidentiality and security they thought they were guaranteed when they adopted a child?

These questions are coming in sharper focus as various forms of "searching" become more commonplace and as adoption begins to lose the social stigma it once had. The search can take several forms; an adoptee may want to find his or her birth parents or a birth parent may decide to search for the child who was given up.

Many searches turn out quite happily, but they can be emotionally volatile experiences. Both adoptees and birth parents who search speak of the fear of rejection, and the adoptive parents must often wait in the wings, nursing their own fears about losing their child. (It is, however, much more commonplace these days for adoptive parents to help their child with the search.)

But a more basic frustration of the search can be the inability of

The proposed new elementary school in Woodstock.

The Directors turned down a proposal that would have scheduled Restructured Days in S.A.D. 44 school during the 1984-85 year as follows: Elementary, Sept. 19, Oct. 17, Nov. 21, Jan. 16, March 20, and May 15; Secondary, Nov. 21, Jan. 16 and May 15. As a result of Board action, Restructured Days during the 1984-85 school year are to be approved by the Directors on a case-by-case basis.

Approved of the use of a second personal day in connection with a scheduled European trip involving Telstar students and faculty members during the Spring vacation was approved for Charles Taylor, Sue Taylor and Felix Otero-Otero.

The remainder of the meeting was spent in a workshop session concerning the Fiscal Year 1985 Budget. Another Budget Workshop has been scheduled for Monday evening, April 2, at 7 p. m. in the Telstar Library.

At the close of the meeting DeWane B. Craig, Superintendent of Schools, presented Eva C. Twitchell of Woodstock, with a plaque in appreciation of her three years service as Board Chairman. Mrs. Twitchell has indicated that it is her desire not to serve another year as Board Chairman.

Board member Roger Wheeler of Newry was not present Monday evening.

The next regular meeting of the S.A.D. 44 Board is scheduled for Monday evening, April 9, at 7:30 at the Andover Elementary School. This will be the annual organizational meeting, including the election of a Chairman and Vice Chairman for the ensuing year.

adoptees to gain access to records which contain information vital to their mission. Laws on the subject differ from state to state, so a crazy-quilt patchwork system has emerged under which reunions can be very difficult to arrange.

I am co-sponsoring a bill that would coordinate mutual-interest reunions by establishing a national registry in which biological parents and adult adoptees may be voluntarily located through a centralized clearinghouse. Unexpected reunions would be avoided, since no action can be taken unless both the adult adoptee and the birth parent have independently made contact with the center.

This idea is not new. Many states, including Maine, have already established centers in which information is exchanged based on mutual consent. But state registries cannot handle the job alone since many persons are born in one state and then adopted in another. What often happens is that a birth parent will register in one state while the adoptee enters into another state registry. Both may have consented to a reunion, but it may never occur since they are registered in different states. A national registry would solve this problem by bringing together those who wish to be reunited.

The establishment of a national registry would recognize the rights of all parties involved in an adoption case and would attempt to resolve many of the difficult issues involved. No action could be taken unless and until both the adopted person and birth parent made contact with the center. This guarantees that there would be no invasion of privacy, no infringement of states' rights and no opening of sealed records. Only those searching for each other would be brought together.

One adoptee who wrote a book about her 20-year search for her birth parents quoted the lines of a poem:

Why does the wind blow upon me so wild,
Is it because I'm nobody's child?

She stressed the point that many adoptees, even those with warm and loving relationships with their adoptive parents, feel a void without the basic background information which most of us take for granted. Making reunions of this sort a little easier seems a humane and wise action for Congress to take.

The Small Business Administration has issued a new definition of small business in an attempt to broaden the number of firms eligible for government contracts and loan programs.

Under the new rules, issued earlier this month, manufacturers and wholesalers generally will be considered "small" if they employ fewer than 500 people. This would make the bulk of Maine's business community eligible for the small business designation.

An estimated 46,000 firms nationwide will now be reclassified into the small business category allowing them to compete for the $11 billion in federal contracts annually set aside for small businesses and to make them eligible for the $4.3 billion in loans, loan guarantees and disaster assistance that is earmarked for small firms.

Under the old rules, and primarily because of inflation, many smaller firms had been reclassified as large firms making them ineligible for these special programs. Meanwhile, the U. S. Small Business Administration reports that the number of new small businesses is growing in Maine. During the first six months of 1983, 1,075 new small businesses were established in the state.

Lincoln and Suzi Fuller of Fryeburg are announcing the birth of a son, Colby Reid Fuller, March 20, at Maine Medical Center, Portland. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Fuge of Conway, N.  Notice of Application Filed with the Commission
 (March 20, 1984)

Take notice that the following hydroelectric application has been filed with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission and is available for public inspection:

- Type of Application: Preliminary Permit
- Project No.: 8123-000
- Date Filed: February 22, 1984
- Applicant: Paris Hydro Associates, Inc.
- Name of Project: Billings
- Location: Little Androscoggin River, Town of South Paris, Oxford County, Maine
- Filed Pursuant to: Federal Power Act, 16 U.S.C. §791 (a)-(r)

h. Contact Person: Mr. David M. Coombe, Synetics, Inc., 410 Severn Avenue, Suite 409, Annapolis, Maryland 21403
 i. Comment Date: May 21, 1984
 j. Description of Project: The proposed project would consist of: (1) an existing 150-foot-long, 12-foot-high masonry dam with a concrete cap; (2) an existing 11-acre reservoir with a normal maximum water surface elevation of 343.0 feet M.S.L. with no usable storage capacity; (3) a new powerhouse located at the east dam abutment containing turbine-generators with a total rated capacity of 170 KW; (4) a 50-foot-long, 12.5-KV transmission line; and (5) appurtenant facilities. The project would generate up to 850,000 kWh annually. The dam is owned by the Town of South Paris, Maine.

k. Purpose of Project: Energy produced at the project would be sold to Central Maine Power Company.

l. This notice also consists of the following standard paragraphs: A5, A7, A9, B, C, and D2.
 m. Purpose, Scope and Cost of Studies under Permit: A preliminary permit does not authorize construction. A permit, if issued, gives the Permittee, during the term of the permit, the right of priority of application for license. Applicant seeks issuance of a preliminary permit for a period of 18 months, during which time it would perform surveys and geologic investigations, determine the economic feasibility of the project, reach final agreement on sale of project power, secure financing commitments, consult with Federal, State and local government agencies concerning the potential environmental effects of the project, and prepare an application for an FERC license, including an environmental report. Applicant estimates the cost of the work under the permit would be $86,000.
 n. A5. Preliminary Permit: Existing Dam or Natural Water Feature Project—Anyone desiring to file a competing application for preliminary permit for a proposed project at an existing dam or natural water feature project, must submit the competing application to the Commission on or before 30 days after the specified comment date for the particular application [see 18 CFR 4.30 to 4.33 (1982)]. A notice of intent to file a competing application for preliminary permit will not be accepted for filing.

Rotary Club News

The Bethel Rotary Club held its regular luncheon meeting at the Sudbury Inn on March 27. The program chairman for the day was Bill Clough. His speaker, Ann Chorn, a Gould Academy student, is a Cambodian refugee. A missionary, Peter Pond, was instrumental in bringing Ann to the U.S., and adopting him. He resides in Jefferson, N. H. Ann's family members were killed by the Khmer Rouge, and he escaped and lived in the jungles for about a year. He was about 12 years old at that time. He is now 17. His description of living conditions and the atrocities suffered by his people were truly amazing. This young man has been welcomed to the U. S. by President Carter and by many other dignitaries and groups, and he is in demand for speaking engagements over a wide area. He recently spoke to the student body at Harvard University, and will be addressing the faculty, staff and student body at Exeter Academy in the near future. Ann is an accomplished musician and a very fine student. Bill Clough says that he has been a transforming influence to the students at Gould this year. Thank you for sharing your experiences with us, Ann.

The program for next week will be replaced by Club Assembly business. Prior to the meeting the Board of Directors will meet at 7 a. m. At Tuesday's meeting the District Assembly to be held in Waterville on April 14 was discussed. Club representatives, in addition to Jim Monahan, President-Elect, and John Head, Secretary, will attend. Romeo Baker, Rotary information director, talked about the origin of Verse and Rhyme. His presentation was interesting and very humorous. More of that later, Romeo. Guest joining with Rotary Tuesday was Ira Pitcher, Lewiston/Auburn Rotary.

Dances are being planned for the Spring, Summer and Fall. More information will be forthcoming.

Albany HUNT'S CORNER AND VICINITY

Kathy Bennett, Corres. —
Let us hope that spring is really here. My hopes were lifted as I saw the finches, a red-winged blackbird and pine siskins at the bird feeder this morning.

James Barton celebrated his 19th birthday at his home on Sunday. Attending were Roger and Yvette Barton, Dale and Pam, Fran and Larry Parsons and Michelle, also twin sons Justin and Jason, Elsie Bouchard, Grampa Frank Barton, and Doug Bennett. Sunday callers at the farm were Flo and Warren Cairns.

Recent callers at the home of Hugh and Edith Stearns have been Barb Inman, Dick and Ivy Philbrook, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Waterhouse.

Libby Scribner called at the Wardwell Farm one day this week. Another sure sign of spring is the "Green Comet" is out of winter storage!

Steve and Lorrie Hodgdon went dancing at PMS on Friday night. They called on Mr. and Mrs. Larry Davis and Paula and Jim Allen on Saturday.

Esther Rugg and Homer Ward and Carla Rugg called on Tina Daneco and family and April Edwards and family on Sunday.

Mark and Tina and children called on Esther Rugg Friday night.

David Bennett spent the week end with his friend, Scott Dyer. Friday night Dick and I played cards with Flo and Warren Cairns. Saturday night Dick and I, Franklin and Margaret Barton and Bill and Yvonne Robinson went to the dance in Oxford. Thursday, Margaret Barton and I went to Conway, N. H., shopping and called on Fran Parsons and family in Brownfield.

Don't forget the Circle meeting here at K-D's Acres next Monday night, April 2, at 7 p. m.

Children's Center

Activities at the Children's Center continue to focus on the many remarkable changes that mark the spring season. The children and staff tramped through mud and snow in search of signs of spring, brushed up on skills needed in kindergarten, cooked biscuits and taken a trip to Albany to see Amos-Hausman-Rogers' family maple syrup production. They have also planted marigolds and made paper corsages to give to their grandparents on grand- parents' day, April 10.

Martha Stowell will be attending the N. E. Resources Access Project Conference entitled Making Room-Creating Accepting Environments for Children with Severe Handicaps. Katrina and Tracy made a visit to the Department of Human Services to job shadow a protective service worker in order to gain a good understanding of their function and methods of intervening in neglective and abusive family situations. They were impressed by the large number of requests for services last week in Oxford County and the small number of workers responsible to investigate, assess and intervene in these cases. The workers' large caseloads provide them with an overwhelming challenge and requires a great deal of emotional stamina and skill to facilitate positive change in the dysfunction- ing families they serve.

Thank you, Steve Wright, for your letter to the editor last week, which expressed so much better what I wished to but couldn't get on paper.

The sun is noticeably setting further westward. The southern crows have returned and can be distinguished from those that wintered here by their noise and behavior. The sky, also, have a more summer like appearance.

I get mostly compliments concerning my column from outside the four walls of Upton, but mostly complaints from within. It is nice having a clearing house which operates for me. The neighbors get their complaints voiced, the complaint department enjoys being in on the action, but seems perturbed because my reaction is usually a hearty chuckle. Usually much ado about nothing but life seems to be like that.

THIS WEEK AT THE MOSES MASON HOUSE

New life member this week is Alonzo F. Chapman of San Antonio, Fla. Mr. Chapman, who is retired, is a Bethel native and a graduate of Gould Academy, class of 1935.

A century ago the "Oxford County Advertiser" for March 21, 1884 was reporting Gould Academy was so large (over 100 students) that "the principal has found it necessary to employ still another assistant, Miss Palmer of Gorham, N. H., in order to do justice to the students." It was reported that "Dr. Russell's team, hitched in front of S. A. Buck's store, became frightened at some boys snowballing, broke the lower dasher to his sleigh, and damaged the harness somewhat." The "Advertiser" columnist continued: "It is not a good plan to have boys throwing snowballs in the streets where there are teams hitched; their parents are liable and should be made to pay damages."

CROP INSURANCE ON CORN & POTATOES OFFERED BY FCIC

April 15 is the last day to apply for crop insurance for corn and potatoes in Oxford County, Maine, according to Arthur Carroll, District Director for the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation (FCIC).

Crop insurance covers unavoidable loss of production resulting from adverse weather conditions, wildlife, earthquake, or fire.

Three coverage levels (50, 65, and 75%) are available for insurance protection. Additionally, FCIC offers three optional price elections for valuing production lost or damaged," says Carroll.

"To assist producers, the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation will cost-share up to 30% of the cost of carrying insurance. For more information about the program, producers should contact an authorized crop insurance agent," says Carroll.

To select an agent, producers should check the list of agents available at their county ASCS office. Applications should be submitted to the sales agent no later than April 15.

According to new projections by the Bureau of Labor Statistics, manufacturing—led by such industries as computers and instruments—is expected to account for almost one new job in six between 1982 and 1995, although employment in industries such as steel and autos will probably not return to prerecession levels.

March 18, 1884 reported that the Bethel town meeting was uneventful except for the abolition of the Liquor Agency. This was "accomplished without opposition and the results seem to be generally satisfactory." The columnist for the "Democrat" continued by assuring its readers that this was in the interest of "good order and morality" but it is still "rather tiresome and disgusting to listen to long homilies in the advocacy of total abstinence from men whose secret habits give tie to their utterances in public."

The "Democrat" of March 25, 1884 reported on the address of General Joshua Chamberlain delivered at the Congregational Church regarding the surrender of Lee at Appomattox Court House, Virginia on April 9, 1865. (General Grant selected 20th Maine Commander Chamberlain to officially accept the surrender of Lee's troops thereby ending the Civil War.)

The following book review on Ken Follett's new book "On Wings of Eagles" has been prepared for the Library by a patron. Readers are encouraged to give their personal reviews of recent books to be included in the Library news.

"A spellbinder"; "Reads better than any fictional thriller"; "Couldn't put the book down"; are just some of the comments from Library patrons after reading "On Wings of Eagles". Ken Follett's newest best seller. This extraordinary work re-creates the daring rescue of two Americans falsely imprisoned in revolutionary Iran during the time of the Ayatollah Khomeini's return. It is the story of how Texas millionaire Ross Perot organized a commando team from highly placed executives within his computer corporation, persuaded a Green Beret colonel out of retirement to lead the unlikely bunch, and after the U. S. State Department failed to secure the release of his American employees through diplomatic channels, staged an illegal breakout from the Iranian jail. The story is not fictionalized, nothing invented. What you read actually happened — a true American adventure by a group of Texans who didn't believe theirs was a mission impossible.

Easter bunny the same as last year. The Auxiliary will have printed a sheet stating the functions of active and inactive membership and these will be available for anyone who might be interested.
